

Gradually Disappearing of Ignorance for the New Earth

Ignorance will not disappear if animal products continue to exist in this world. Pain will not disappear if animal products continue to exist in this world.

Animal products are hidden in every corner, food, cosmetics, daily supplies...And you can not find them on the label.

For example, they could exist in ink, paint, surface coating. Hard to imagine, right?

Many products contain animal ingredients.

Let's take fatty acid (often a mixture of long chain acids) as an example. Fatty acid is one industrial chemical that could be used to make many products. Fatty acid could be obtained from plants, seeds... And it can also be obtained from animals.

Animal ingredients might have been omnipresent. The process of purifying oneself is a process of removing ignorance and growing of wisdom, so is the development of the society.

New civilization means that human beings are becoming more conscious of other beings that are coexisting on this beautiful planet. In new civilization, human beings are not self-centered any more and their consciousness will expand from themselves to all.

Take the civil right movement for example. At that time, most people treated black people as low level. And they thought that was normal and nothing was wrong. So at the beginning of the civil right movement, most people were just watching and they were puzzled. Civil right movement was pushed forward by a set of events initiated, lead and done by clever and brave people.

Now, it's about 60 years after. Today, white and black people are working shoulder to shoulder and there is no differentiation any more and it's not allowed.

After civil right movement, human beings took off a layer of ignorance. It's a leap for human civilization.

So would be the case for animal rights. Animals have the same feelings as human beings, happiness, anger, sadness and joy. Their feelings is even stronger. When we know this, we would understand that all animal products could contain animal feelings. Feelings are energy and energy will not disappear itself, but it can transfer.

When humans realize this and start to switch to plant-based products, human beings will take off another layer of ignorance.

Ignorance is like dark cloud and it blocks the wisdom inside us. Every one is equipped with wisdom and its comes from the inner self.

Judge others' feelings by our own and we would understand well animal's feelings.

We are the same!
